Product Description

Versatile and Elastic Choice for Commuter and Casual Wear

Usage:

NR Ponte De Roma Fabric is a versatile textile crafted from a blend of viscose, nylon, and spandex. With its double-sided knit structure, this fabric boasts a full and compact surface, offering exceptional elasticity and comfort. Suitable for both men's and women's commuter wear, such as blazers and trousers, as well as various sporty and leisure apparel.

Main Advantages:

- 1.Double-Sided Knit Structure: NR Ponte De Roma Fabric features a double-sided knit construction, resulting in a fabric that looks great on both sides. This adds versatility to the fabric and allows for reversible garments with a polished appearance. The double-sided knit also enhances the fabric's durability and elasticity.
- 2.Rich Elasticity: With the inclusion of spandex, NR Ponte De Roma Fabric offers excellent stretchability and elasticity. The fabric maintains its shape and ensures a comfortable fit, making it suitable for active lifestyles and garments that require ease of movement.
- 3.Versatile Applications: NR Ponte De Roma Fabric is well-suited for a wide range of garments. From professional commuter wear, including blazers and trousers, to sporty and leisure apparel like athleisure wear and casual dresses, this fabric adapts to various styles and occasions.
- 4.Compact and Smooth Surface: NR Ponte De Roma Fabric exhibits a full and compact surface, creating a smooth and polished appearance in garments. This adds to the fabric's versatility and ability to effortlessly transition from casual to semi-formal attire.
